PRELIMINARY INJUNCTION ORDER

Whereas, on January 24, 2024 Plaintiff Bullseyebore, Inc. filed its Verified Complaint for Copyright Infringement, False Designation of Origin, False Advertising, Civil Conspiracy and Common law trademark infringement seeking damages and injunctive relief;

Whereas, on January 26, Plaintiff Bullseyebore, Inc. (Bullseyebore”) filed an Ex Parte Motion for Entry of a Temporary Restraining Order and other Relief, including a request for a temporary injunction, a temporary transfer of the Defendants’ Domain Names, a temporary asset restraint, expedited discovery and service of process by Email and Electronic Publication, (the “Motion”) against the fully interactive, e-commerce stores operating under the Sellers and Sellers aliases identified in Schedule A to the Complaint and attached hereto (collectively, “Defendants”) and using at least the domain names identified in Schedule A (the “Defendant Domain Names”), and further moved to have any TRO that issued be converted to a Preliminary Injunction,

Whereas, on January 30, 2024 Bullseyebore filed its First Amended Complaint and Schedule A to the Amended Complaint,

Whereas, on January 30, 2024 an ex parte hearing on Bullseyebore’s Motion for a TRO and other relief was held,

Whereas, at the January 30, hearing, the Court found, in the absence of adversarial presentation, that Bullseyebore provided a basis to conclude that Defendants have sold products using Bullseyebore federally registered copyrights (the “Bullseyebore Copyrights”) and/or using infringing and counterfeit versions of Bullseyebore trademarks (the “Bullseyebore Trademarks”), and showed that such actions resulted in irreparable harm to Bullseyebore, the balance of the hardships favored Plaintiff and it was in the public interest to issue a Temporary Restraining Order,

Whereas the Court further found that issuing the TRO without notice pursuant to Rule 65(b)(1) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure was appropriate because Bullseyebore has presented specific facts in the Declaration of Andrew Aitken in support of the Motion and accompanying evidence that clearly shows immediate and irreparable injury, loss, and damage will result to the movant before the adverse party can be heard in opposition. Specifically, in the absence of an ex parte Order, Defendants could and likely would move assets from accounts in financial institutions under this Court's jurisdiction to offshore accounts, and

Whereas, the Court issued a Temporary Restraining Order and other Relief on January 30, 2024;

Whereas, on February 5, 2024 the Complaint (DCK 1), the Amended Complaint (DCK 9), the Motion For Temporary Restraining Order (DCK 7), the TRO (DCK 11) and the Scheduling Order (DCK 12) setting a hearing on Plaintiff's Motion for Preliminary Injunction was served upon Defendants in conformance with the provisions of the TRO and Plaintiff filed its proof of service on February 11, 2024 (DCK 17), and

Whereas, this Court held a hearing on February 12, 2024 to consider Plaintiffs' Motion for Preliminary Injunction, and

Whereas, none of the Defendants have appeared for the scheduled February 12, 2024 hearing or have otherwise answered the First Amended Complaint, and

Upon consideration of the arguments and evidence that was submitted in support of the Motion for Temporary Restraining Order, the record of the proceedings conducted on February 12, 2024 and the entire record herein, it is the 12th Day of February
